Notices of Motion

544 The Minister for Health to move—That the House:—
   (1) Congratulates Health Services Innovation Tasmania for facilitating the 2015 Sustainable Healthcare Transformation International Conference on Health System Innovation, which will bring together high-profile local, national and international clinicians, health service managers, policy makers and researchers.
   (2) Notes that the Conference aims to share contemporary research and best practice in healthcare improvement, covering themes such as innovation in healthcare delivery, research in healthcare improvement and capability and capacity building.
   (3) Recognises that this is a particularly important conversation to be having in light of the fact that healthcare providers internationally are facing unprecedented demand for services.
   (4) Agrees that it will be increasingly challenging to provide quality care into the future unless we significantly rethink and reconfigure the way services are planned and delivered.
   (5) Acknowledges that the Government is responding to this challenge as it moves through the process of health reform, reconfiguring health services to put the system on a safe and sustainable footing into the future. As we move through that process, the Tasmanian health system will benefit from the learnings of this Conference through having had some of its best and brightest attend. (18 March 2015)

545 Mr Booth to move—That the House:—
   (1) Notes:—
       (a) the growing concerns over the fate of current government veterinary and quarantine services on Flinders Island; and
       (b) the local community’s frustration that they cannot obtain a straight answer from government over whether the government vet and quarantine position based on Flinders Island will remain funded beyond June this year.
   (2) Recognises that should this position be axed, local farmers and the community will all be affected, with stock and domestic pets potentially suffering not due to owner neglect, but because of the removal of an accessible service.
   (3) Holds serious concerns that although there is a private practice serving the island, it cannot be expected to cover both domestic and farming requirements for 365 days per year, and cannot be expected to deal with serious biosecurity and quarantine responsibilities.
(4) Acknowledges it is a government responsibility to provide such frontline biosecurity and quarantine surveillance to protect Flinders Island from exotic pests and diseases, the introduction of which could decimate the local island economy and environment.

(5) Calls on the government to ensure these veterinary and quarantine services are invested in to reflect their crucial frontline biosecurity status for both Flinders Island and Tasmania. (18 March 2015)

546 Mr Barnett to move—That the House:—
(1) Recognises that the 12th annual Glover Prize took place between 7 – 10 March 2015 at Evandale.
(2) Notes that the event is Australia’s richest annual prize for landscape painting, attracting 282 entries from across Australia and the globe with thousands of Tasmanians, interstate and overseas visitors attending the exhibition to view the 42 finalists.
(3) Congratulates the 2015 winner of the prize, Nigel Hewitt, whose piece entitled Woven used ashes taken from the Dunalley bushfires to create a scene of the Tasmanian wilderness.
(4) Commends all 2015 finalists for their hard work and dedication to producing world class art dedicated to the Tasmanian landscape.
(5) Notes the contribution that John Glover himself made to Tasmanian society in his own day and in the present day through his authorship of truly spectacular and beautiful works of art. John Glover spent the last 20 years of his life living in Evandale, the town in which the award is held.
(6) Thanks all those involved in running and organising the Glover Prize, including the Evandale Rotary Club and panel of expert judges Elizabeth Ann McGregor, Francis Parker and Ellie Ray, for the fantastic contribution they make to Tasmanian society and culture.
(7) Acknowledges all partners of the Glover Prize, including the principal partner—the Federal Group Tasmania—and major partners, AT+M Integrated Marketing and Launceston Airport, for their contribution to this iconic Tasmanian event. (18 March 2015)

547 Ms O’Connor to move—That the House:—
(1) Recognises that the 104th International Women’s Day was celebrated globally on 8 March 2015 and the theme of the 2015 celebration was “Make it Happen”.
(2) Notes that the Tasmanian Greens held their inaugural International Women’s Day awards on 11 March 2015 to celebrate the strong and committed Tasmanian women who have been, and are, part of the growing global green movement.
(3) Appreciates that one of the key components in gender equality in our communities is ensuring there are women in leadership positions, across the community, in business and in our Parliaments.
(4) Acknowledges that the Awards are designed to recognise and celebrate the women of the Greens for their outstanding contribution to protecting Tasmania’s wilderness for its own intrinsic value, but also for current generations and for the children of the future.
(5) Recognises that the inaugural award was presented to the women of the United Tasmania Group, a group of warm, tenacious and fearless women who fought to save Lake Pedder from drowning and were the founders of the world’s first Green Party – now known as the Tasmanian Greens. (18 March 2015)

548 Ms Ogilvie to move—That the House:—
(1) Recognises the substantial and longstanding connection between Tasmania and Scotland.
(2) Recognises that the recent international cricket competition, which saw teams from many nations, including the Scottish team, helped to reinvigorate connections.
(3) Recognises that a continued strengthening of Tasmania’s connections with Scotland is a desirable outcome, for culture, business, education and sport. (18 March 2015)
Mrs Rylah to move—That the House:—
(1) Notes that a record number of visitors have come to Tasmania in the December quarter as shown in recent survey figures.
(2) Highlights that the increased sailings for the Spirit of Tasmania I and II, increased ship passenger numbers, the greater seating capacity of the airlines plus the marketing and promotional work done by Tourism Tasmania have each contributed to this record.
(3) Congratulates Tall Timbers at Smithton, its General Manager, John Dabner, and all its staff on winning the Tourism Industry Council Tasmania People’s Choice Award for the Cradle Coast Region recently.
(4) Notes that Tall Timbers has recorded it strongest guest numbers in a December quarter since 2008 or six years ago.
(5) Emphasises the importance of the Spirit of Tasmania I and II in creating regional employment and how valuable this is in getting our great State growing.
(6) Embraces the exciting opportunities available in this state as a result of the announcement of the refurbishment of both passenger ships which will allow, on completion, additional day sailings and as a consequence will deliver greater tourist numbers to regional Tasmania.
(7) Endorses the Tasmanian Liberal Government’s plan to grow tourism numbers to 1.5 million per annum by 2020.  (18 March 2015)

Ms White to move—That the House:—
(1) Raises the alarm at the number of unfilled vacancies in the child protection service across the State and that despite the Minister for Human Services knowing about this for months, recruitment has only just now begun to try and fill these positions.
(2) Notes:—
(a) with concern that there has been a 30% reduction in the number of child protection notifications progressing through to investigation as a consequence of having fewer staff on active duty to follow these matters up;
(b) that with cuts to essential services across the State, including education, frontline workers such as social workers, counsellors and chaplains, who routinely identify children at risk, have been put under further strain and in some cases are no longer in some schools regularly enough to identify vulnerable children.
(3) Acknowledges that the impact of these cuts to essential services and the inability of the Minister for Human Services to act with urgency to fill vacancies in the child protection system is placing some of our State’s most vulnerable children at unacceptable levels of risk.
(4) Recognises that in addition to the Minister for Human Services failing to act with urgency to recruit new child protection workers a hearing scheduled with the Industrial Commission and the CPSU to resolve this issue has been adjourned at the employer’s request.
(5) Calls on the Minister for Human Services to:—
(a) give child protection greater priority and urgently address the staffing shortage in child protection across the State;
(b) work with Cabinet colleagues to ensure funding cuts to essential services cease in order to prevent more vulnerable children from falling through the cracks.  (18 March 2015)

Mr Jaensch to move—That the House notes that:—
(1) The national parks and reserves that comprise the Tasmanian Wilderness World Heritage Area cover almost a quarter of the State, representing one of the largest temperate natural areas in the southern hemisphere.
(2) Providing opportunities for people to experience and appreciate protected wilderness areas has been central to the purpose of national parks since the concept first emerged over a century ago.
(3) Of those parts of the world with intact wilderness areas, Tasmania is arguably the best placed to achieve a balance between sustainable tourism and conservation management as a significant contributor to its economy.
The Government has a goal to transform Tasmania into the environmental tourism capital of the world, to create jobs for Tasmanians and help reach a target of 1.5 million visitors a year by 2020.

25 of 37 eco-tourism projects proposed under the State Government's Expressions of Interest process for tourism in Tasmania’s National Parks and World Heritage Areas will proceed to Stage 2 assessment, 15 of which are located in or on the edge of the World Heritage Area.

Stage 2 involves a more rigorous assessment of each proposal. Successful proponents will also be required to obtain all other necessary statutory approvals as required under existing State and Commonwealth law.

The 25 projects are distributed across all regions of Tasmania, with 10 proposed for the West and North-West, eight in the South and South-West, two in the North-East and five on the East Coast.

Together, these proposals represent the greatest influx of tourism projects ever put forward in Tasmania, made possible simply by the Liberal Government opening the door to new ideas. (18 March 2015)

The Minister for Human Services to move—That the House Notes that:—

1. 21 March 2015 is the 10th anniversary of World Down Syndrome Day, a global awareness day which has been officially observed by the United Nations since 2012.
2. World Down Syndrome Day is a day to celebrate the lives and achievements of those living with Down Syndrome and plays an important role in promoting the inclusion of people with Down Syndrome in all aspects of life and encourages support for their dignity, rights and well-being.
3. World Down Syndrome Day encourages everyone all over the world to help raise awareness of what Down Syndrome is, what it means to have Down Syndrome, and how people with Down Syndrome play a vital role in our lives and communities.
4. The Liberal Government is committed to supporting people living with disability and has committed to a range of measures to improve accessibility for people living with disability, including the continued roll out of the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS). (18 March 2015)

Ms Giddings to move—That the House:—

1. Notes:—
   (a) before the last election the Hodgman Liberal Party trumpeted the importance of the TOOL program in Mornington and promised $980,000 to keep it going;
   (b) the Hodgman Liberal Government has failed key Tasmanian training organisations who have been unsuccessful in the recent tender for training places, including Tas TAFE, TOOL and Neighbourhood Houses, leaving many vulnerable Tasmanians without training in an environment they are comfortable to learn in; and
   (c) as a consequence of vital training dollars going to the private sector and interstate training organisations such as Queensland TAFE, TOOL, who are funded through Tas TAFE, is now under so much financial pressure that it may have to close its doors in June 2015.
2. Condemns the government for cutting funding to this important not-for-profit organisation that is turning young people’s lives around.
3. Calls upon the government to properly fund TOOL to ensure that this vital service can remain open. (19 March 2015)

Mr Booth to move—That the House:—

1. Notes:—
   (a) the intention by the Western Australian Liberal Government to cut funding from 150 remote Aboriginal communities;
   (b) the recent comments by Liberal Prime Minister Tony Abbott that living in remote Aboriginal communities is a “lifestyle choice”, and indicating that under a Liberal Government continued funding of the communities would be unlikely; and the cuts already imposed by the Federal Liberal Government by withdrawal of funding to their State counterparts amounting to approximately two thirds of the support provided to remote Western Australian communities.

(2) Recognises the call to action by the Tasmanian Aboriginal Centre and the intention by members of the Tasmanian Aboriginal community to march to the Launceston office of Federal Liberal Member Andrew Nikolic MP to protest against the funding cuts and to provide a letter to be handed to the Prime Minister.

(3) Calls on the Premier, Hon. Will Hodgman MP, to actually keep his promises to “reset” the government’s relationship with the Aboriginal community and follow up with a letter of his own to his Federal counterpart indicating his position of support for continued funding and self-determination for remote Aboriginal communities. (19 March 2015)

555 Mr Booth to move—That the House:—

(1) Notes with concern that Seafish Tasmania have commissioned the super trawler Geelong Star to fish small pelagic species in Australian waters.

(2) Recognises:—

(a) the ban imposed on super trawlers measuring over 130 metres; and
(b) that while the Dutch owned Geelong Star measures 95 metres, it is purported to have a similar freezer capacity to the FV Margiris and has been set a quota of 16,566 tonnes to fish for jack mackerel, blue mackerel and red bait.

(3) Acknowledges the petition from Stop the Trawler Alliance that was handed to Federal MPs yesterday and containing over 75,000 signatures calling for a permanent ban on factory-freezer trawlers from fishing Australian waters.

(4) Calls on the Minister for Environment, Parks and Heritage, Hon Matthew Groom MP to lobby his Federal counterpart to impose a permanent ban on all such large scale factory-freezer trawlers from operating in Tasmanian waters. (19 March 2015)

556 Mr Booth to move—That the House:—

(1) Notes:—

(a) with concern the refusal of the Minister For Energy, Hon Matthew Groom MP, to disclose the State’s position on the Commonwealth’s review of the Renewable Energy Target; and
(b) that the Liberals’ repeal of the Carbon Price has cost the state an estimated $120 million per year, and Tasmania cannot afford any further discouragement of renewables.

(2) Reinforces its support for the retention of 41,000 gigawatt hours as the agreed RET Target.

(3) Calls on the Minister for Energy to place the long-term interests of Tasmania over the Liberals’ short-term ideological drive, and clearly and publicly lobby his Federal counterparts for a strong RET with the target of at least 41,000 gigawatt hours. (19 March 2015)

557 Mr Jaensch to move—That the House notes that:—

(1) Friday 20 March 2015 is the National Day of Action Against Bullying and Violence.

(2) Every day across Australia, thousands of children, adults and adolescents are suffering the pain and humiliation of being bullied. It’s estimated that 1 in 5 Australians are bullied.

(3) Bullying is when an individual or group repeatedly and intentionally use words or actions against an individual or a group to hurt, abuse, and harass them. This can be traumatizing for the victim, affecting them emotionally, socially and psychologically as they are made to feel oppressed and powerless.

(4) Bullying can occur in school, the workplace, sporting club, community organization or online, and can take many forms, including:—

(a) verbal bullying
(b) physical bullying
(c) emotional/social/psychological bullying
(d) racial bullying
A one-off dispute or incident may not be considered bullying behaviour and may resolve itself, but when these incidents become repetitive, they are likely to be classed as bullying and should be dealt with promptly.

Bullying is a crime in Victoria and bullying/cyber bullying is protected under various state harassment/stalking laws, including the Commonwealth Crimes Legislative Amendment Act, 2004.

The Tasmanian Government is also committed to strengthening the legislative provisions that deal with the crime of bullying and cyber bullying, and as such, the Attorney-General has asked the Tasmanian Law Reform Institute to consider whether current anti-bullying legislation is strong enough.

The Bully Zero Australia Foundation is dedicated and committed to raising awareness of bullying and its devastating consequences through schools, workplaces and the broader community. It aims to empower and provide young people with hands on educational strategies to prevent bullying and work with bullies and their families to help create positive behavioural changes.

No Australian deserves to fear attending their school, work, club or community group because of bullying. (19 March 2015)

Mrs Rylah to move—That the House:
(1) Notes the awarding of the ‘The Search’ finalist to the Burnie community yesterday.
(2) Recognises that the Burnie City Council and the 35 industry, government and community organisations have put a huge effort into preparing the winning submission which sought to secure the $1 million for the people of Burnie offered through the Centre for Social Impact in Sydney.
(3) Compliments the group on taking the initiative to develop the capacity of communities in the early stages of implementing the Collective Impact framework.
(4) Understands the Burnie project, called ‘Burnie Works’, is applying the Collective Impact framework to tackle unemployment caused by entrenched social disadvantage and poor educational attainment in the Burnie region.
(5) Commends the members of the group for focusing this project on improving the engagement of all young people in education and their transition to employment.
(6) Supports the announcement yesterday by ‘The Search’ which said that Burnie had undergone an irreversible shift in the way it thinks about and leads social change in their community.
(7) Anticipates this significant investment in Burnie Works will help to deliver important changes in the Burnie community, and especially result in improved outcomes for vulnerable Tasmanians.
(8) Congratulates everyone involved in the Burnie Works project. (19 March 2015)

Mrs Rylah to move—That the House:
(1) Notes the courageous and professional way Venture Minerals Limited has set about exploring for minerals in their mining lease on the West Coast over the last 4 years.
(2) Acknowledges that:
   (a) the company has spent over $40 million in shareholder funds in undertaking exploration, and preparatory studies and approvals; and
   (b) the company has endured seven false-starts to the Riley Mine project at enormous cost because of legal challenges to approvals obtained from government making a mockery of the current lengthy and expensive approvals process.
(3) Recognises that the Riley Mine was a very small mine area which is located in previously mined and disturbed land and would have resulted in fully revegetated and rehabilitated land in less than 6 months from each section being mined.
(4) Notes that if this mine had gone ahead at the time it was approved by both the Tasmanian and Commonwealth Governments in 2013, Venture Minerals would now be pumping $40 million per annum into the Tasmanian economy and employing 60-70 people in direct jobs plus the numerous flow-on jobs.
Condemns the actions of the ‘anti-everything’ groups like ‘Save the Tarkine’, stopping legitimate business creating jobs and a future for Tasmanians. Contends that if the company was fully operational today Treasury would already have significant and growing additional revenue flowing from this project. (19 March 2015)

Mr Barnett to move—That the House:—
(1) Recognises Saturday, 21 March 2015 will be Harmony Day, an annual celebration of Australia’s cultural diversity.
(2) Notes that:
(a) the event, a Howard Government initiative celebrating its fifteenth year in 2015, is a valuable chance to learn more about each other, recognising what unites us and celebrating our unique contributions to Australia; and
(b) the theme for this day is ‘Everyone Belongs’—a worthy recognition of the contributions made by all the groups that make up our community from the traditional custodians of our land to the most recent migrants.
(3) Acknowledges that today, alongside the more than 88% of Tasmanians born in Australia, we have more than 57,650 people (11.6%) of the Tasmanian population who were born overseas with over 24% of Tasmanians (113,969 people) having one or both parents born overseas.
(4) Notes that Tasmania is home to residents from over 170 countries with over 75 languages spoken across the state.
(5) Acknowledges that the diverse community that we have is a key asset for the State, bringing economic and social benefits that help enhance and strengthen Tasmania, with the Liberal Government committed to fostering a culture of respect and dignity for all Tasmanians. (19 March 2015)

Mr Barnett to move—That the House:—
(1) Recognises that this coming weekend, 20-22 March 2015, will be the Deloraine Stringfest, an annual celebration of stringed instruments, the luthiers who build them and the musicians who play them.
(2) Notes that:
(a) the event also aims to highlight the craft of luthiers and the pre-eminence of Tasmanian timbers in creating quality stringed instruments; and
(b) during Stringfest, over 30 performers from across Australia and the world will be performing in venues around Deloraine with buskers and exhibitions also showing all weekend.
(3) Congratulates the artistic director and event founder, Nick Weare, Chairman John Phelps, Co-ordinator Marion Curtain, Treasurer, Tim Biggs and organising committee for their hard work and commitment in making this event such a success in past years and no doubt into the future.
(4) Thanks the townspeople of Deloraine and the broader Meander Valley for their support of this festival in its efforts to ensure that Deloraine continues to be recognised as a centre of craft and art excellence. (19 March 2015)

The Minister for Health to move—That the House:—
(1) Congratulates Flourish – Mental Health action and Tasmanian Health Organisation North West on the launch of an innovative collaboration which will provide regular free forums in the North West for consumers of Mental Health Services.
(2) Notes that these forums will be conducted on a regular basis and will provide information to consumers of Mental Health Services in an informal, friendly setting.
(3) Recognises that this initiative is a clear demonstration of how we can find opportunities to inform and empower consumers of health services.
(4) Agrees that this is an example of how we can work differently on mental health to deliver better outcomes for consumers, which complements the intent of the Government’s Rethink Mental Health reform project. (19 March 2015)
Orders of the Day

1 Acts Enumeration Amendment Bill (pro forma) (No. 2): Second reading. (The Premier)

2 Hearing Awareness Week: Adjourned Debate on the Question proposed on Wednesday, 27 August 2014 by Ms Courtney—That the House:—
   (1) Notes that 24 – 30 August 2014 is Hearing Awareness Week.
   (2) Further notes that hearing loss can be caused by hereditary conditions, infectious disease, prolonged exposure to excessive noise or the effects of aging and that less than 20% of the people who could benefit from wearing a hearing aid wear one. One in six Australians is affected by hearing loss which is an estimated 3.5 million people.
   (3) Urges Tasmanians who are concerned about their hearing to have a hearing test.
   (4) Thanks those people and organisations that are involved in Hearing Awareness Week, which will see a range of promotional activities happen across the country, including ‘silent’ sports events, public exhibitions on hearing technologies, and hearing safety training by employers to alert people to the issues. (Next Speaker: Mr Shelton)
