LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

SCAB IN SHEEP.

CHIEF INSPECTOR'S REPORT FOR 1872.

Laid upon the Table by Mr. Scott, and ordered by the Council to be printed,
June 17, 1873.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF INSPECTOR OF SHEEP.

Inspector of Sheep Office, Hobart Town, 1st June, 1873.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit for your information the following Report upon the working of the Scab Act since the 1st of May, 1872.

In my Report of the 22nd June, 1872, I informed your predecessor that on the 1st of May preceding there were 336,549 sheep under clean certificates, and that I believed a considerable number more (about 70,000) would be added by the end of June; and further, that the probable number at that time eligible for clean certificates might be estimated at about 50 per cent. on the number stated as likely to be under clean certificates by the end of that month.

I have now the satisfaction of being enabled to state that the anticipations entertained at the date of my last Report have been more than realised,—not only with reference to the progressive increase in the number of sheep which have been freed from disease, but also with reference to the increased quantity of wool, and number of fat sheep produced and sent to market.

In the month of December, 1872, in compliance with an order of the House of Assembly, I furnished a rough progress Return of the number of Sheep on the 1st of that month in the several Sheep Districts,—as being under clean certificates, clean certificates applied for, and other sheep supposed to be clean at that date, as follows:—

Sheep under clean certificates	688,064
Ditto certificates applied for	120,000
Ditto supposed to be clean, but for which the owners had not applied for clean certificates, or for which strictly they would not be legally entitled to certificates of cleanness	100,000
Estimated number of sheep considered clean on 1st December, 1872..	908,064

I have since made out in detail the Parliamentary Return which was called for, showing the condition under the Scab Act of all the sheep in the Island, together with the names of the owners, and the several Districts in which the flocks are situated.

The following is an abstract or summary of the Return referred to, which I hope will be considered sufficiently detailed for a Report of this kind:—

It is quite probable that on the 1st of May, 1873, the number of Sheep actually infected will be under 100,000, and some of the most extensive Sheep Districts will be eligible for being declared "Clean Districts."

I have prepared an amended Return, similar to the foregoing, up to the 1st of May, the termination of the period to which the first renewed Licences extended; from which it will be seen that the number of sheep under clean certificates has largely increased since the 1st of February, when the last Return was made. The following is a summary of the Return referred to:—

The foregoing Returns show that during the last 12 months the cleansing and reformatory operation of the Scab Act has been even more manifest than during the preceding year; and I have every reason to believe that during the next 12 months the infected flocks will be reduced within such narrow limits as to number, that the greatest sceptics of 1869-70 will be compelled to abandon their unbelief, and admit that the "theorist," the "enthusiast," and as some said the "unprincipled schemer," has proved to be "none of these things," but a very matter of fact individual, who knew from his own former experience that certain causes would produce certain results; and that success must be the reward of his labours if he could only manage to overcome a considerable want of knowledge, and consequent prejudice against the Scab Act which existed in Tasmania, and get the requisite sanitary agencies fairly brought into operation.

The sheepowners now, as a body, heartily co-operate with the Inspectors, and are generally desirous of seeing the law strictly carried out. Those who have fully realised the material advantages which the Act has already abundantly conferred upon them, look with great suspicion and alarm upon a doubtful flock of sheep passing their neighbourhood. It is true, doubtful flocks are not allowed to travel under the Act; but still, now and again, sheep that have not been clean long enough to entitle them to be moved, have escaped notice until after the danger had been incurred, and owners of clean sheep subjected to fear and annoyance in consequence of such infringements of the Act.

To meet this evil I purpose very soon bringing under your notice the propriety of advising that certain Districts should be declared "Clean Districts" under Section 18 of the "Scab Act Amendment Act, No. 2." When this is done in any particular locality, sheep will not thereafter be allowed to enter a "Clean District" without a permit from an Inspector,—which will be a great protection to the sheepowners within such District, so long as scab exists in any portion of the Island.

The export of stud sheep to the neighbouring Colonies has increased during the last three years, as the following figures show:—

To the above number and value of sheep exported during the current year to the 31st of May, may be added 21 fine-woolled rams from the now well-known "Belle Vue Flock," to be shipped to New South Wales per City of Hobart on the 17th of this month, and which have been sold for £560,—10 of them being at £30 each; also 45 Leicester ewes by the same ship, valued at £10 each; and 57 pure fine-woolled ewes from the "Mona Vale Flock," to be shipped to New Zealand per Chanticleer about the same date, the value of which I am not in possession of. There is every reason to believe that the export of stud sheep, in number and value, in 1873, will be quite equal to if it does not exceed that of 1872.

I have seen a sufficient number of the account sales of the sheep referred to in the foregoing Table to induce me to think that the Custom House value, as stated, is much below the prices which some of the exporters have realised. I think that if 20 per cent. is added to £15,500, or £3100, making £18,600, it will not do more than fully represent the actual amount the breeders and dealers have received for stud sheep during the year 1872.

I may mention here, that although the Scab Act did not produce these sheep, it produced—or rather, I should say, opened up—the markets of some of the neighbouring Colonies for them, and preserved and invigorated others which I believe but for the Scab Act would have been closed against us ere this time; or, if left open at all to Tasmanian sheep, it would have been under such restrictions as would have kept down the value of our first class high-priced animals to such an extent that sheep,—which have been and are now being sold at from £10 to £30 per head,—would have been barely saleable at unremunerative figures.

In my calculation of £153,000 per annum of increased profit to arise from the eradication of Scab, made in 1871, appears an item of £5000 for stud rams and ewes exported to the neighbouring Colonies. The results disclosed in 1871 and 1872 prove how moderate the estimate was under this head; and I am happy to be able to say that under the heads of increased quantity and value of wool, during the last three years, my estimates in 1869 and 1871 are equally borne out. I have been collecting information on this point during my recent tour through the Sheep Districts; but have not yet completed my enquiries in some parts of the Country. In a few months I shall be in a position to place you in possession of indisputable evidence from all quarters of the Colony that my estimate of increased quantity of wool, viz. 4 ozs. per fleece in 1869, and 6 ozs. in 1871, has in many flocks been proved to be 8 ozs., and in some considerably more; and some of the larger holders assure me that the increased value per lb. on the whole clip is in the same ratio. On this point my deductions and calculations are made from information derived from sheepowners whose flocks were generally well managed under the old system, and came to the shearing board with apparently full fleeces. Results from flocks formerly very scabby I am not yet in possession of.

The Live Stock Statistics for 1872, taken in March last, have not yet reached the Statistician's office in a complete form, one of the smaller District Returns not having been sent in; but the others,—to which I have added the district unreturned according to the numbers returned to me and returns to this office,—show that the annual decrease from 1869 to 1871-2 has ceased; and I think that at present we may estimate an absolute increase upon last year's returns of 65,000 sheep, according to returns furnished to me; and according to the Live Stock Returns an increase of nearly 100,000.

This will be seen from the following figures, and a reference to my last general Return to the 1st May :—

		Returned under Scab Act.
From 1860 to 1869, average number of sheep	1,730,000
1870	1,531,187	1,416,665
1871	1,349,775	1,349,134
1872	1,305,489	1,306,359
1873	1,405,862	1,350,000

I have put down the return of sheep for the current year at 1,350,000, although I have only at this date received in a regular form 1,311,691. Some returns have been sent back for the correction of irregularities, and some few have not yet been sent in. I think, however, that the number will fully reach 1,350,000 for 1873.

In some districts the rabbit plague has been in a great measure stayed, and runs are again stocked with sheep that for the previous two years had been abandoned to rabbits. Notwithstanding however that 655,808 rabbit skins were exported in 1872, valued at £6356, the animals are still very numerous in various parts of the Country. I have no hesitation in stating my belief that even now the rabbits in the Hamilton, Bothwell, Green Ponds, Oatlands, Campbell Town, and Ross Districts are consuming the food of 150,000 sheep; and I fear that in localities where they are only now becoming numerous, the settlers have not fully recognised the magnitude of the evil, and the pressing necessity which exists for expending more money on their destruction than the mere price of the skins will induce.

As I anticipated in my last Report, the yearly diminution of importations of fat bullocks and sheep has been continued in 1872, as follows:—

1869. Bullocks, 1722; sheep, 16,544: value	31,695
1870. Bullocks, 1640; sheep, 17,900; value	27,945
1871. Bullocks, 928; sheep, 13,053: value	18,230
1872. Bullocks, 827; sheep, 5398: value	12,102

Although the decrease in importations of bullocks and sheep will continue year by year, until it ceases altogether at no distant date, I do not think the decrease in 1873 will be so marked as during the preceding three years.

As a set off against the importation of 827 head of fat cattle in 1872, at a cost of £8280, a demand for cattle for breeding purposes has recently arisen in New South Wales; and during the year 1872, 204 head of cattle, valued at £2130, have been exported to that Colony. There has also been a considerable demand for horses for shipment to Victoria and New Zealand, 250 having been exported in 1872, valued at £7158. The continuance of the export trade in cattle and horses must depend very much upon the future action of the settlers themselves; unless more attention is bestowed upon breeding than is done at present, I fear that the trade, which has revived so considerably in 1872 and during the current year, will again languish or die out altogether in future years.

I have received the last Report of the Chief Inspector of Sheep, New South Wales, which shows that in 1872 they had an increase over 1871 of upwards of 1,000,000,—bringing up the present number to over 17,000,000 in all, reported free from Scab disease. Queensland and South Australia are also reported free from disease. In Victoria there are still some infected sheep, but the number is very small indeed compared with what it was a few years ago. I am not in possession of the exact number, but from the last quarterly Returns sent to me, I think it cannot be more than a hundred thousand or two out of 10,000,000; and I have no doubt that ere long the Victorian flocks will also be free from the disease. The Provinces of Otago and Canterbury, New Zealand, may be said to be clean. I have the last report of the Chief Inspector of Sheep, Otago, dated the 31st March, 1873, stating the number of sheep to be 3,309,287, and reporting them free from disease. The last report I have from Canterbury stated the Province to be clean with the exception of one flock of 12,000 sheep, and the total number at 2,503,000 in December, 1871. I am not in possession of very recent reports from the other Provinces, but in all, I believe, the cleansing process is in active operation.

I have again much pleasure in reporting my perfect satisfaction with the manner in which the members of the Inspecting Staff have performed their duties. The increase made to their pay and allowances during the current year, I feel assured, proved not only an incentive to exertion, but has enabled them to perform a much larger amount of work than they could possibly have done without it. I fear much that, unless the increased contribution of 1873 is continued for 1874, it may become a necessity to reduce the number of Inspectors at an earlier period than such a change should be thought of. The number of flocks that will come under the increased fee on second and third renewals of Licences, will not be so large as I anticipated when the charge was reduced from 1s. to 3d. per head; and consequently, the Scab Act Fund for 1874 must prove inadequate for the support of the present Staff during that year. This, to some persons, may appear satisfactory in one point of view, because it will arise from the fact that the greater number of the sheep have been cleaned sooner than was anticipated; but there is another aspect of the question, which is not so satisfactory, and it is this,—that although the number of infected sheep in 1874 will be very small, they will be distributed, more or less, in almost every district throughout the Colony; and consequently the inspecting power for that year, at least, ought to be as great as at present.

I think it probable that there are a very few settlers who may tell the Government that, because I have stated it is now difficult to find a diseased sheep, it is an evidence that I do not require so many Inspectors; and in fact that the increased contribution for the current year was not required. Such views as these are not only narrow-minded, but they are also most erroneous, and if acted upon may materially extend the time when the disease ought to be wholly eradicated. So long as diseased sheep exist at all in Tasmania, the greatest vigilance on the part of the Inspectors will be required to prevent their being smuggled into Clean Districts. In my opinion, and I know the same opinion is held by many sheepowners, a full inspecting power should be kept up until the disease has become a thing of the past, both on the Mainland, and in the Islands—where as yet I have been unable to send an Inspector.

Propositions have been made to the Government by a sheepowner, who considers the Act in its present form “a disgrace to a Christian Legislature,”—who also entertains, as I conceive, peculiar views on the individual rights of Englishmen,—offering to prepare a measure to consolidate and simplify the existing law, and if necessary work it himself as Chief Inspector. The communication of the gentleman referred to was submitted to me by the Hon. the Colonial Treasurer, and I made such observations upon it as appeared to me to be called for. It is, therefore, unnecessary for me here to remark upon any expressed desire of one or more individuals for an amendment of the existing law, further than this: that I cannot help thinking, bearing in mind what has been accomplished in three years, that considerable weight should be attached to my opinion; and that, without presumption on my part, or offence to any settler dissenting from it, I may fairly claim to know what is required to accomplish the work better than any one else who has not had equal experience,—certainly better than any person who has lived almost entirely in one particular part of the Island, whatever his experience there may have been, and who possibly may be but imperfectly acquainted with the Country generally; and I would strongly deprecate any legislative interference with the Act at present, unless indeed it was confined to an extension of the additional provision of 1873 to the year 1874; and that I fancy would not meet the views of those who wish to consolidate and simplify the law as it stands.

The additional Inspector recently appointed is now employed in assisting the District Inspector in the South; and, when that work is sufficiently accomplished for the present, I purpose sending him to the North Coast for a similar purpose, and afterwards to the Islands in the Straits, when I can make arrangements for it. There is considerable difficulty in getting a suitable vessel to take an Inspector to the Islands, and I fear it will also be expensive. It is a work, however, that must be done ere long in justice to owners of clean sheep on the Mainland, who at present are sometimes in great danger from boat loads of sheep being landed on the North Coast—occasionally even in the River Tamar.

The number of sheep specially inspected by the District Inspectors from the 1st of June, 1872, to this date, is over 820,000.

Miles travelled by District Inspectors, 22,743.

Inspections made by myself I have not thought it necessary to specify; and I may again observe as I did in my last Report, that the number of sheep inspected by any particular Inspector does not give anything like an accurate idea of the amount of work he has performed, without reference to other circumstances and the nature of the country where the work is done.

I have appended to this Report a detailed Return of Sheep throughout the Police and Municipal Districts, showing their condition on the 1st of May, together with the names of the several owners.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

JAMES WHYTE, Chief Inspector of Sheep.

The Hon. JAMES REID SCOTT, Colonial Secretary.

RETURN of Sheep in Tasmania in the several Municipal and Police Districts up to the 1st May, 1873, showing the number for which Clean Certificates have been granted; the number for which renewed Licences have been issued; the number reported by the owners to be clean and for which they have applied for a Clean Certificate; and the number for which the owners have not made an application for a Clean Certificate or made any report of the condition of their Sheep to the Inspectors.

The numbers in each Class will embrace the increase of 1872. The numbers given in the Returns are nearly all of this year's, with a few exceptions where the inspections and issue of Clean Certificates have been of very recent date, and where returns have not yet been received at this office.

Ninety per cent. of the Sheep for which Clean Certificates have been applied for may be added to those now under Certificates, and about 80 per cent. of the number for which the owners have not applied for a Certificate of Cleanness.

JAMES WHYTE, Chief Inspector of Sheep
1st May, 1873.

I. MIDLAND AND EASTERN SHEEP DISTRICT, embracing Campbell Town, Fingal, Glamorgan, and Ross.
