

Speaker's Room,

House of Assembly,

January 10, 1923.

The Honourable

The Premier,

Sir,

During the past three years when sending in the Annual Estimates I refrained from recommending increases to Officers of the House owing to the state of the finances, but in view of the recent revaluation of the services of Officers of the Public Service by the Salaries Board, I deem it my duty to bring before you for the consideration of the Cabinet the case of these Officers.

As you are aware Parliament has specially exempted its Officers from the operation of "The Public Service Act", but in any revision of the salaries of Public Servants I am of opinion that the Officers of the House should participate

The permanent Officers of the House consist of the Clerk of the House, the Clerk-Assistant, the Clerk of the Papers, and the Look-After and Messenger. I propose to deal with these Officers separately.

The Clerk of the House.

This Officer is the permanent head of the House and has had a long and exceptionally successful career in his important office. He is the chief executive officer of the House and is responsible for the carrying out of all its decisions, as well as for the placing of the Bills in their passage through the House and for the accurate recording of the Votes and proceedings of the House. Mr. Reid has been called upon to succeed me and my predecessors in the Chair in presiding over very important sittings which have been held, and to take better place Mr. Reid's

Figure 1. The effect of the concentration of the Agrobacterium suspension on the transformation efficiency of Agrobacterium strains. The Agrobacterium strains were grown in the YEA medium for 24 h at 28°C. The cell concentration of the strains was adjusted to 1.0 × 10⁸ cells/ml. The cell suspension was mixed with the plant tissue and the transformation efficiency was determined. The results were expressed as the mean ± SD of three independent experiments. The asterisks indicate the significant difference between the strains at the same concentration of the cell suspension.

I think it is very important to have a clear understanding of the position of the various departments and the way in which they are organized. [Illegible handwritten notes]

At the time of his appointment, while not knowing the salary of Mr. Green to compare with, I brought with me the Premier that this officer would receive four annual increments. The fact that he is offered a salary of $10,000 per annum is from doing what I consider to be the duty of the office. When Mr. H. C. Green resigned from the position in 1902, I asked the Parliamentary Service of the Government if they thought it would be difficult to replace that valuable officer, Mr. H. C. Green. I was informed that from the very commencement Mr. Green showed an extraordinary gift and talent and was such a keen and active interest that he has become a very good officer. In 1902, his general abilities were found to be such that he was recommended for promotion and was promoted to the position of Deputy Secretary. I am therefore of opinion that the position of Deputy Secretary is one of the most important in the Government and that the duties thereof are considerable. I am, however, fully satisfied that Mr. Green is a very capable and efficient officer.

Dear Mr. Turner:

I have been very busy, but I have been able to get into the office since yesterday and today over the phone with regard to the report of the Legal Committee. C. Mitchell, Esq.,
1, Park Street,
L. A. T. E. C. S. T. O. S.

Sir,

On my return to the office from the Mainland yesterday I received your letter of the 19th inst. enclosing original and three copies of a Petition to the House from Manufacturing Stationers, Wholesale and Retail Stationers and General Storekeepers throughout Tasmania.

I am sorry to have to inform you that the Petition is out of Order in several respects. In the first place it contains no prayer. This however might be rectified, were it not that the signatures are on separate sheets and in direct conflict with Standing Order No. 51, which reads: "Every signature shall be written upon the Petition itself, and not pasted upon or otherwise transferred thereto". There is nothing to show that the signatures were obtained for the objects set forth in the Petition itself.

I much regret to have to inform you of this after all the trouble that has been taken, but it is my duty to do so. Might I suggest under the circumstances that you should address the Governor or Administrator-in-Council. The Action against which you take exception is, or will be, an Executive act of Ministers, and, at all events in the first instance, it appears to me that it would be more fitting to make representation to the Governor-in-Council on the subject, and if the result should then not be satisfactory, you might approach the House by Petition, or, which might be equally effective, you might get a private Member to move "That the Petition to His Excellency the Governor-in-Council from Manufacturing Stationers, Etc. be laid on the Table of the House". When this is done the Member can move "That in the opinion of this House the action of ministers in, etc. " and he can use the Petition to the Governor-in-Council which will then be before him in speaking to the Motion. In this way publicity will be given to the matter and your object will probably be attained.

G. Mitchell, Esq., Secy. to the Hon.

If I can assist you further in any way I shall be pleased to do so.

Yours faithfully,

Clark of the House.

P. S.-

I return herewith the Petition and the three copies thereof.

G. F. Dawson, Esquire

Secretary, Supply and Tender Board.

Dear Sir,

I brought the Memorandum of the Acting-Government Printer dated 23rd ult. on the subject of Stationery for Parliament, before the Honourable the Speaker, and he desires me to say that, while desirous of economising in the Public expenditure wherever practicable, that in his opinion the proposal to do away with embossing the Parliamentary crest would lower the prestige of Parliament, and he is therefore opposed to it. In any case Mr. Speaker considers that it should not be done without first consulting Hon. Members.

As the Legislative Council is also affected by the proposal, I would suggest that the views of the Honourable the President should be sought through the Clerk of the Council.

Sir,

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY ESTIMATES, 1924-25.

The Clerk of the House is forwarding herewith the Estimates of the Department for the present Financial Year. I regret that they have not been sent in earlier, but the delay has been occasioned first, by the illness of the Public Service Commissioner, and later by the congestion of other important work in the Commissioner's Office.

With the concurrence of the Honourable the Premier, I, unofficially, called in the assistance of the Salaries Board to assess or value the service of each permanent Officer of the House. A copy of the Board's Recommendations is forwarded herewith, and I have directed the Clerk of the House to place the Salaries thus recommended in the Estimates as from 1st July last, with the exception of the Salary of the Clerk of the House, which I strongly urge should be raised to £650 per annum in view of Mr. Reid's long and devoted service of over twenty-eight years in the office of the Clerk of the House.

I trust that the Recommendations of the Board, together with my own recommendation, will be given effect to by Ministers, so that the Officers of the House will be dealt with in the same manner and on the same basis as the Public Service was last Session.

Many thanks for your letter of 8th inst. in reply to mine inquiring about the Sydney agency of the "Hammond".

As I apparently cannot get my "Hammond" efficiently repaired here, and as I am used, and very much attached, to my machine, I have decided to send it over to you to be thoroughly overhauled and repaired. I have arranged to have it delivered to you through one of the forwarding agents in this City, and when repaired I shall be glad if you will be so good as to return it through the same channel, so that I may pay transit charges both ways at this end out of Petty Cash.

I enclose Treasury Voucher upon which please make out your claim for putting the machine in order. Please make sure to sign the Voucher at the places marked in pencil as "Claimant" and also as "Recipient". On receipt of the Voucher I shall immediately certify the same and pass it on to the Treasury for payment and you will receive cheque in settlement of claim in due course.

James Stirling, Esq.,

Dear Mr. Stirling,

I brought your letter covering account for special train to Roseberry on 24th inst. before the Select Committee on the Wood-pulp and Paper Industry Encouragement Bill, and the Committee decided to allow Mr. Wessan and Mr. Cohen to pay the cost of the train, which they are quite willing to do. It was felt that the ordinary expenses of the inquiry to the State would be considerable and that had the Bill been a Private one, which it would have been had not Ministers come along and made it a Government measure, the whole of the expenses would have had to have been paid by the promoters, and that therefore the proposed arrangement was a fair one.

At his request I handed Mr. Cohen your claim and he said he would arrange to have cheque sent to you in settlement thereof.

With kindest regards and many thanks for your kindness while at Burnie.
