PARLIAMENT OF TASMANIA.

BOARDED-OUT CHILDREN:

REPORT FOR 1883.

Presented to both Houses of Parliament by His Excellency's Command.

BOARDING OUT DESTITUTE CHILDREN.

REPORT for 1883.

Charitable Grants Department, 10th April, 1884.

Sir

In compliance with your circular letter of the 31st January, the Central Committee for boarding out Destitute Children have the honor to submit the following Report for the year 1883.

On the 1st of January of that year the total number of children maintained under the Boardingout system was 135—boys, 65, girls, 70—viz., in—

Municipalities, &c	15	17	$3\overset{1}{2}$

During the year the Committee held 21 meetings, irrespective of those connected with the annual inspection. Additional children to the number of 20 were provided with homes, and 35, including 8 of the above-named 20, ceased to be a charge to the Government, leaving, on the 31st December, a total of 120, distributed as follows:—

fifteen less than the number with which the year commenced.

A Return, giving the names, dates of birth, and religion of the children for whom provision was made, the names of the foster-parents, the amount paid weekly in each case, &c.) has been prepared, and will accompany this Report. The grounds upon which the additions to the boarded-out list, and the circumstances under which the removals therefrom were made, are also embodied in the Return, and may be summarised thus:—

Of the 153 children included in the return, 107 were maintained for the full term of 12 months, and the remainder, 46, for shorter periods, varying from 4 to 362 days.

The expenditure for the year was as follows:-

Salary of Inspecting Officer. Maintenance of children. Cost of clothing purchased Cost of stores issued by Colonial Storekeeper. Cab hire, Annual Inspection.	165 1 7 03	13 6 15	$\begin{array}{c} 0 \\ 5 \\ 2 \\ 11 \end{array}$

The actual cost per head per annum amounted to £14 1s. $10\frac{1}{4}d$.

Out of the stores charged for as above, articles to the value of £3 14s. 9d. only have been issued by the Committee. The remainder, supplemented by a large quantity of children's clothing received from the Storekeeper without charge, of the estimated value, at retail prices, of about £40, it is anticipated will aid materially in supplying the wants of the boarded-out children for a considerable time.

On the 3rd January, 1881, the date of the appointment of the Committee, there were 154 children being maintained under the boarding-out system, and, in the three years that have since elapsed, it has been found necessary to take charge of and provide for 75 others; viz., in—but the Committee during that period have been enabled to relieve the boarded-out list of 109; viz., in—

The annual expenditure, and the actual cost per head, were as follows:-

Of the 109 children above referred to, 12 had, from various causes, to be placed in public institutions, but it is not anticipated that more than two or three of them will have to be supported by the public for any great length of time. One, the blind boy alluded to in the Report for 1882, and who is now an immate of the New South Wales Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind, it is hoped will be taught some trade by means of which the Government in a few years will be relieved of the cost of his maintenance. In the Report received from that Institution, dated 14th February last, the master says: "He is a plodding good-natured child (blind). He is able to read nicely, and is getting on with his other lessons pretty well." This lad was born on the 11th May, 1874, and was sent to Sydney on the 22nd January, 1883.

In the case of the girl admitted to the Hospital for the Insane, New Norfolk, there is no probability whatever of improvement. She is blind and idiotic, and must be provided for as a pauper as long as she lives.

The other ten were sent to Industrial Schools,—two at the special request of their mother on her death-bed, and eight for discipline and special training. All these children, with one exception, —a girl, who defies all efforts to teach her anything,—it is believed will be fit for service at no distant date, and able to support themselves. The remainder, 97, are accounted for as follows:—

Annual Inspection.

On the 19th June the Committee, accompanied by the Hon. the Chief Secretary, commenced their annual inspection of the children boarded out in Hobart, at New Town, and Sandy Bay, and continued it at intervals of a few days to the 17th of the following month. The result was highly satisfactory; and it was evident from the bright and happy faces of the children that they were well cared for and had good comfortable homes. They were decently and warmly clad, and their appearance (except in one or two cases, in which delicacy of constitution or the traces of recent sickness were apparent) denoted happiness and content. The foster-parents were not aware of the intention of the Committee to visit them, and therefore had no time for preparation. The Committee found them engaged in their ordinary household duties, and had an opportunity of forming some idea of the manner in which they conducted their homes.

Since the appointment of the Visiting Committees the Central Committee have not been in the habit of subjecting the bedding and clothing to a very minute examination; but from what they saw of them and the bedrooms occupied by the children, they were perfectly satisfied that in these respects the wants of the little ones were well attended to, and that the foster-parents were doing their duty by them to the best of their ability. As stated in former reports, foster-parents are not lightly selected. They must be women of good character, known to be attached to children, and capable of bringing them up in a proper manner. They must also reside in respectable localities, have proper accommodation, and be of the same religion as the children.

Attendance at School.

The regular attendance of the children at school is also strongly insisted upon, and it affords the Committee much pleasure to report that to this most important matter the foster-parents paid every attention. Where absences for any length of time occurred, the children were either too ill to leave home, or not sufficiently recovered to make it safe for them to mix with their schoolfellows.

Reports from the masters of the various schools attended by the children are appended hereto.

The foster-parents are also required to send the children to Sunday-school; and the annexed report of the Inspecting Officer will show that, in this particular, the directions of the Committee were strictly complied with.

Health of Children.

During the first six months of the year several of the children suffered from scarlet fever and whooping-cough; but in one case only of the former was it found necessary to resort to hospital treatment. The patient, a boy, was admitted on the 4th of February and discharged convalescent on the 12th. Another lad had chicken-pox, and became so debilitated that it was deemed advisable to send him to the Hospital. The attention he received there, and the nourishing food he was supplied with, enabled him to return to his home after a stay of 13 days. The girl previously referred to as an inmate of the Hospital for the Insane, was under observation at the General Hospital for a fortnight prior to her removal to New Norfolk. On the 4th July a girl five years old was admitted to the Hospital suffering from phthisis, and, the Committee regret to say, died there on the 30th. For some days before her admission, and on three or four previous occasions, she was attended by Dr. Turnley, the Government Medical Officer, at her own home. The greatest care was taken of her by her foster-parent, a most reliable and experienced woman, and the Committee feel assured that everything that medical skill could suggest was done for her by Dr. Turnley and the authorities at the Hospital, but in vain. She was never a strong child, always had a cough, and was an inmate of the Hospital for six days in May, 1881.

In all the other cases of sickness the children were nursed throughout by their foster-parents, and such as needed medical advice received it, according to circumstances, either at the Hospital as out-patients, or at home at the hands of Dr. Turnley.

As the rate of mortality must be regarded as an important element of the system under which the orphan and destitute children of the Colony are being brought up, the Committee consider it due to that system, and to themselves as its administrators, to point out that in the year 1881 191 children were under their supervision, of whom 122 were maintained for the full term of twelve months; in 1882 there were 165, 117 of whom were a charge for the whole year, and in 1883 the number was 153, for 107 of whom provision was also made for the full term.

In the course of the year 1881 three deaths took place, and in their report for that year the Committee gave the following particulars respecting them:—"One, a girl named Emma Watts, a cripple unable to stand, and who had always been delicate, was admitted to the General Hospital on the 15th February, and died there on the 28th of the following month, aged seven years. She was an inmate of the same institution in 1878, and was discharged as incurable. The second, a boy named John Nelson, four years and three months old, had been under Doctor Turnley's care for some time, but died on the 9th September from atrophy and debility; and the third, Alfred Watts, a brother of the girl Emma Watts, died suddenly on the 6th November, aged twelve years and nine months. He was, as reported by the Inspecting Officer, delicate from his birth, and always looked emaciated and miserable. At the inquest held upon the body the medical evidence exonerated those who had the care of him from all suspicion of neglect or unkind treatment."

In their next report for 1882 the Committee were "glad to be able to state that there were no deaths amongst the children during the year." Last year, as previously shown, one death took place; making four in the space of three years. The Committee feel confident that if due consideration be given to the circumstances connected with these deaths,—to the number and tender age of the children provided for, their antecedents, and the deplorable condition in which some were when they became charges upon the public,—the death-rate cannot be regarded as excessive, or calculated to reflect either upon the Boarding-out system or its management.

Changes in Homes.

Several changes in the homes of the children were made during the year under the following circumstances:—

- 1. A boy, whose conduct was so bad that his foster-parent asked for his removal. In his next home he was also difficult to manage, and eventually absconded. He was sent back, but absconded again, and it was some time before he was discovered. His foster-parents declined to have anything more to do with him, and as it appeared from the reports of the police that the lad had obtained employment with a respectable settler at North West Bay, the Committee decided to leave him there. He is not at present any expense to the Government. This is a case in which the want of a reformatory was much felt.
 - 2. A lad, removed from Franklin to Hobart, the reports received of him being unsatisfactory.
- 3. Four children of one family at Campbell Town transferred to another home there, at the request of the foster-parents, who wished to give up the charge.
- 4. A girl, removed also at the request of the foster-parent, who said she found her too trouble-some, and objected to the constant visits of the child's mother.
- 5. A boy, who could not content himself unless amongst horses and cattle. A place of the kind was found for him at Sandy Bay, and he is now going on well.
 - 6. Six children, whose foster-parent's state of health rendered their removal desirable.
 - 7. A boy, for whom another home had to be found, his foster-parent having left Hobart.
- 8. A girl, removed from Glenorchy to Hobart, it having been found that the foster-parent instead of sending her to school regularly, took her out with her fruit and hop-picking.
- 9. A boy, surrendered by his foster-parent, who stated she had not time to give him proper attention.
 - 10. A boy, removed at the request of his foster-parent, he having got beyond her control.
 - 11. Two boys, transferred on the death of their foster-parent.
- 12. A boy, whose foster-parent gave him up because she found she could not manage him any longer.
- 13. Two girls, in a delicate state of health, were, on medical advice, removed from Hobart to New Town for change of air. These children required careful nursing, and an extra allowance was given for two months, to enable the foster-parent to obtain nourishing food for them.

In another case, also, the Committee were compelled to grant an increased allowance, the child, an infant suffering from "infantile paralysis," required so much attention, having to be carried about constantly, that the woman in whose care she was declined to keep her at the ordinary rate of payment, and no one else could be found to undertake the responsibility. One of the four children at Campbell Town, above-mentioned, has been sent to service since her change of foster-parents, and is doing well. Another, referred to in the report for 1882 in the following terms—"A girl, who is of weak intellect, and will never, it is feared, be able to earn her own living, was under treatment, &c."—so benefited by the change of home, that the Committee were enabled, in September last, to procure a place of service for her, which she has managed to keep. She is only receiving her clothes and food at present, but the Committee are not without hope that, if her mistress will continue to overlook her deficiencies as a servant and allow her to remain, something may be made of her eventually. All the others have done exceedingly well in their new homes, and have not given any trouble.

Visiting Committees, &c.

The Committee have great pleasure in renewing their acknowledgments of the valuable work done by the ladies and gentlemen associated as Visiting Committees, and in expressing their belief that the services rendered by them have been productive of the utmost good both to the children and their foster-parents. The opinions, founded upon personal knowledge and experience, entertained by the Committees of the manner in which the children were treated during the past year, are expressed in their reports hereto appended, and will be found to be of a most gratifying nature.

The children in Hobart were also under the constant observation of Mr. Judge, the Inspecting Officer, and the foster-parents were seen by him several times during each month, either at his office or at their own residences, and information was obtained from them respecting the children under their care. At New Town and Sandy Bay the Sub-Inspectors of Police in charge spared no pains to secure to the children the benefits to which they were entitled at the hands of their foster-parents.

The 38 children boarded out in Launceston and other parts of the Colony were under the supervision of the Police Magistrates and Wardens, who reported periodically to the Committee on the subject of the clothing and food supplied, the attendance of the children at Sunday and Day-school, and as to their treatment generally. The reports received were, as a rule, very satisfactory, and calculated to inspire confidence in the persons who had charge of the children.

Apprentices.

At the end of the year the children at service under the boarding-out system, and living with persons by whom they had been adopted, numbered 70, and the deposits in the Savings Bank to the credit of those in whose names accounts had been opened amounted to £156 12s. 9d.; payments for the last quarter of the year amounting to £18 11s. 11d. were subsequently received and paid into the Bank, making the total deposits £175 4s. 8d., distributed amongst 61 accounts.

Up to the 31st December, 1883, 104 children had been sent out as above. Of that number 32 have ceased to be under the control of the Committee. One of the girls, No. 1716, was married on the 16th January, 1883, with the consent of the Committee, and is living with her husband in the Brighton Municipality, where he has relatives. The sum of £1 11s. 1d., to her credit in the Bank, was paid to her shortly afterwards. Another girl, No. 1766, having completed the term of her apprenticeship, received the sum of £5 10s. 5d. on the 10th May, and has been in service in Hobart and Launceston since.

The sum of £2 4s. 8d. was also paid to a lad who deposited the money he had earned while an apprentice with the Committee for safe keeping, and drew it in small sums as he required it. The total amount paid to apprentices during the year amounted to £9 6s. 2d.

In a return attached hereto the names of the children who were at service, &c. in 1883, the names and residences of their employers, and remarks upon their conduct, are set forth. A few of the apprentices were a source of endless trouble and annoyance to all concerned, but the others behaved creditably, and some received most excellent characters from their masters.

The quarterly payments for deposit in the Savings Bank to the credit of apprentices residing in or near Hobart were, as usual, collected by the Inspecting Officer, who thus had opportunities afforded him of seeing them and ascertaining how they were progressing. A report on the subject from that officer, who discharged his duties to the entire satisfaction of the Committee, is annexed.

Appointments, Resignations, &c.

On the 13th August Mr. W. H. Burgesss, M.H.A., was appointed a member of the Committee, in the place of Major-General Irvine, resigned. At the end of the year Mr. Alexander Riddoch retired, and the Committee were pleased to learn that, in notifying to him the acceptance of his resignation, the Government acknowledged the services he had rendered as a member of the Central Committee.

In conclusion, the Committee beg to express their appreciation of the action of the Government in authorising the increase of the allowance to foster-parents from five to six shillings per week for each child, which, they believe, will have a beneficial effect upon the working of the Boarding-out System throughout the Colony.

In compliance with the request contained in your communication of the 19th ultimo, I have the honor, by direction of the Chairman, to forward herewith Reports from the Head Teachers of the Public Schools at Battery Point, Trinity Hill, New Town, and Murray-street, on the attendance, progress, &c. of Boardedout Children at those Schools.

J. O'BOYLE, Esq.

Battery Point Public School, Hobart, 24th March, 1884.

I HAVE the honor to report with reference to the boarded-out children in attendance at this school during the year 1883, that in regularity of attendance they are above the average; that their conduct (with one exception) does not call for any special remark; that their appearance in nowise differs from that of the bulk of their classmates; and that their progress may be described (with one exception) as varying from fair to good.

The exception noted above is a girl named Mary Ann Wheeler, boarded with Miss Sadler. In my opinion she is not of thoroughly sound mind, and ought to be where she can have more individual teaching than is possible in a school where the classes are large. She is utterly untruthed and greatly given to stealing.

I BEG to report that Annie Blackmore, during the part of the year 1883 that she attended this school, was very irregular in attendance, being present only 32½ days in three quarters, but was clean and tidy in dress and always appeared cheerful and happy.

She was the only child that I know who was boarded out and attended this school during 1883.

I should have sent you a report last week of our quarterly inspection, which was completed on the last Saturday of last month. Mrs. G. Salier, Mrs. H. Miller, and myself have gone round the last Saturday in each month, sometimes in the morning and sometimes in the afternoon, so as not to become stereotyped. We have found the bedding ample, the clothing in good order, and the children both attending day and Sunday-school. Everything is in a most satisfactory condition, and the children all happy looking and contented. Mrs. Hagerty and Mrs. Hobbs would be thankful for more children, and Mrs. Colatz also would like to have another. We believe all these persons act conscientiously by the children, and we would recommend them for the first children that are available for boarding out.

In presenting you with their Report for the quarter ending 30th June, the Visiting Committee for South City and Suburbs beg to state that the children in their district are all doing fairly well. There were some cases of sickness during the quarter, attended to by the Medical Officer, but the children are all well again, and attending school

The infant 4026, R. Smith, mentioned in our last report, is much better, and improved in appearance, doing justice to the increased allowance made to its foster-parent on account of its state of health and condition.

We trust that the Government will be induced to increase the allowance to all the boarded-out children, as recommended in our last report.

W. H. GRAHAM.

The Chairman Central Committee Boarded-out Destitute Children, Hobart.

Note.—The report for quarter ending 21st March appears in Annual Report Central Committee, 1882.

Elboden Place, Hobart, 29th November, 1883.

SIR,
YOUR Visiting Committee for South Hobart and Suburbs beg to forward you their quarterly report.

The children are all doing well, and those old enough have been attending school regularly. The child 4026, R. Smith, has been visited more frequently than usual, at your special request, and the lady who undertakes this duty reports that it is clean and apparently well cared for, and that at several unexpected visits she found the child always in a fit condition of cleanliness to be seen at once.

We would ask if anything has been done by your Committee in regard to obtaining an increase to the allowance for the support of the destitute children?

The Chairman Central Committee Boarding-out Destitute Children, Hobart.

New Town, Tasmania.

DEAR SIR,
YOUR Committee for New Town desire to report all well to December 31, 1883. The children are in good health and thoughtfully cared for, and they are very fairly regular and punctual in their attendance both at Sunday and Day Schools. I have, &c.

J. O'BOYLE, Esq., Chairman Central Committee Boarded-out Children.

R. J. ELLIS, Chairman New Town Committee.

Hobart, 31st December, 1883.

SIR,

THE members of the Visiting Committee for Central Hobart are glad to report that they have visited the children in their various homes, and found them on the whole looking well and contented, and the foster-parents give satisfactory accounts of their general behaviour. They have also attended church and school regularly.

I have, &c.

HENRY HUNTER, Chairman.

J. O'BOYLE, Esq., Administrator of Charitable Grants.

Elboden Place, Hobart, 7th January, 1884.

DEAR SIR,
YOUR Visiting Committee for South City beg to forward their report for the half-year ending 31st December,

The children in their district have been frequently visited, and are all doing fairly well. Their attendance both at Sunday and day-school has been most regular, and only in two or three cases of mild sickness has that attendance been at all interfered with. This we are able to ascertain by enquiries of the teachers at the different schools, and we may, at the same time, state that the children show a good knowledge of the various branches taught at the Public Schools, and are in no way inferior in proficiency to their fellow scholars.

We have found the children all apparently happy and contented, and as decently clothed as could be expected from the amount allowed for their support.

We have to report that one boy, Durgess, has absconded from his foster-parent, and a clue has been obtained of his whereabouts, but, under the circumstances, which are peculiar, we are inclined to recommend that he be left where he is, as he is earning his living, and there is little hope of his remaining anywhere under coercion.

We beg to say that again, after another year's experience, the Boarding-out system seems to answer admirably, and in our opinion is infinitely preferable to having the destitute children maintained in one large establishment. The children are reared with domestic habits, and are better adpeted to take situations when old enough; they are also more likely to form friendships and ties that may influence them for good, and prove useful to them in after life. and we believe it is more economical, as the cost of a suitable establishment and the support of a requisite staff could hardly be met by the present vote of £2365 per annum.

I have, &c.

W. H. GRAHAM.

The Chairman Central Committee Boarding-out Destitute Children, Hobart.

Hobart, 26th April, 1884.

I have the honor to report that during the last three quarters of the year 1883, the children in this division of the City were visited regularly by the Visiting Committees every month, generally on the Saturday, as they are all at home on that day.

The Visiting Committee were much pleased with the appearance of the children, and with the reports respecting them, received from their foster-parents.

The attendance of the children both at Sunday and day-school was regular, their general conduct most exemplary, and their treatment by the foster-parents all that could be desired.

The Chairman Central Committee.

I have, &c.
R. ANDREW MATHER,
North Chairman Visiting Committee, North Division.

Argyle-street, 6th March, 1884

Sir,

I have the honor to report that during the year 1883, I, from time to time, made inquiry into the conduct of the apprentices from the Boarding-out System, and find that, with the exception of some trivial complaints, they are in general giving satisfaction to their employers.

There are, however, some noted exceptions, and amongst the girls, No. 1905 stands foremost. She is now in her sixth situation, but is so sulky and stubborn that her master is only waiting to obtain another servant before he gets rid of her. No. 2209 is just as bad as the above-mentioned, and if she does not improve in the situation she at present fills I fear there will be no making anything out of her.

With regard to No. 1580, about whom I was obliged to make an unfavourable report in 1882, I must say that all through the year 1883 her conduct was nothing better than it was during the preceding year. Her present employer was in town a short time ago, but I failed to obtain an interview with him, and am therefore unable to say how she is getting on at present.

No. 1861 is conducting herself very well, but her mistress says she is scarcely worth her food.

As to the boys, No. 1065 is the only one who is really bad; he is so vicious and full of mischief that his master would gladly be relieved of him.

Of No. 852, I might say that, although his late master appeared glad when relieved of him, I conceive his greatest faults to be self-esteem, loquaciousness, and a share of laziness. I called on his master three times within the last month, and he told me that the boy keeps regular hours, and is in other ways conducting himself satisfactorily.

With respect to 1958, he is looking better than I have ever seen him, but I fear he will never be more than able to earn his food, and indeed few people would be bothered with him. He lacks memory, and unless working along-side another person, forgets what he has to do. He absconded twice from his present place of service, and was each time found amongst his old associates on the wharf.

I have, &c.

JOHN O'BOYLE, Esq., Chairman, &c.

GEORGE JUDGE, Inspecting Officer.

P.S.—It may be as well to state that the children who have been recently apprenticed are displaying a better training, both morally and religiously, than those who were first apprenticed,—in fact the last three girls quite surprised the ladies who engaged them.

GEORGE JUDGE.
