Sir,

The receipt this morning of your account rendered, reminded me that I had not attended to your letter of 16th November returning your account for the copy of "The Times" Atlas for the Library of Parliament, supplied through Mr. R. Chambers Norman.

At the time this account came to hand I was in the throes of the end of the Session rush and your letter was laid aside and has since escaped me.

As you had omitted to sign the Treasury Voucher as "Recipient" as well as "Claimant", I have had a fresh Voucher made out and am sending it you herewith. Please sign the Voucher both as "Claimant" and "Recipient" and return the Voucher to me, when I shall certify it and send it on, and the Treasury will send you cheque for the amount of your claim in due course.

Yours faithfully

Sir,

In reply to your inquiry I cannot find any signature on the painting of Sir Richard Dry, but I find from the Journals of the Old Legislative Council that it was supplied pursuant to an Address dated, July 26, 1855, from the Council on Sir Richard's retirement from the Office of Speaker. Sir Richard's reply to the Address is dated January 29, 1856 and in it Sir Richard intimated that he had entrusted the execution of the work to Mr. Conway Hart of Hobart Town.

I may add that the Portrait of Queen Victoria in the Legislative Council Chamber, referred to in my former letter is a copy by J. Prescott Knight, Royal Academician, of Winterhalter's original painting of the Queen in her robes.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 20th instant requesting to be informed as to what has been done in this State in respect to a consolidation of the Statutes, I have to state that we have a five volume set of the Statutes which contain all Acts in operation up to 1900, but there has been no consolidation in the strict legal sense of the word; yet they are very useful for purposes of ready reference. For example, where an Act has been amended the amendment is printed and bound immediately after the Act so amended. In 1906 the Legislature passed an Act called "The Acts Amendment Incorporation Act" which is to the effect that in the reprinting of Acts, the amendments made subsequent to the passing of the original Act are shown.

Dear Sir,

I have the honour to advise you that in accordance with your request, I have obtained from the Government Printer, a number of bound volumes of Sessional parts of Acts, which I regret, are incomplete, as some parts are out of print.

They have been supplied by the Printer, with a complete set of Stans' Statutes, and volume vi. of Birchall's.

It will be noticed that Stans' comprises all the earlier Acts and are brought up to 64Vic. and Birchall's Vol vi. follows on, but this work has not been completed, as it is only brought up to the letter "L" I have no doubt that a continuation of this work will, in the near future, be brought out, which would make these small volumes complete, and of considerable value for reference.

I will have the above-mentioned volumes packed and sent by Mail train Monday night to your address, freight paid.
