

FACT SHEET

Traffic Amendment Bill 2016

Where a speed camera detects a speeding offence by a vehicle registered to a natural person, a speed camera infringement notice is issued to that person.

However, for bodies corporate a notice of demand is issued to the organisation for the driver to be nominated. Once this name is put forward an infringement notice is then issued to that person.

This legislation will enable notices of demand to be issued by Authorised Officers. Currently the serving of these notices is only able to be performed by police officers.

Police have advised that this function is an administrative function and could more efficiently be done by specifically authorised staff.