Dear Inquiry into Discrimination and Bullying in Tasmanian Schools,

Do not let the activists who have characterised this inquiry as anti-bullying hide the truth. It is their gender ideology in Tasmanian schools that is leading to increased bullying and discrimination. This ideology contradicts biological realities and creates an environment where factual scientific knowledge is devalued. School policies should reflect biological truths and protect individuals from ideological pressures. No one can change their sex. No one should be penalized for speaking the truth.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
