EXAMINERS' REPORT.

THE Examiners present their Report on the Annual Examination for Exhibitions from Public Schools, which was held on the 19th, 20th, and 21st June, 1883.

Twenty-one candidates were examined, fourteen boys and seven girls.

In the subject of Reading six passed with credit, and four failed, the rest passing more or less satisfactorily.

The Writing was fairly legible, but in several instances deficient in neatness and regularity: nine candidates failed more or less signally in Spelling.

In Grammar the parsing and analysis were generally creditable; the results in the rest of the subject moderate.

In Geography three candidates took a creditable position, and five others did fairly well. The results on the whole are a fair average.

In History one passed with credit, excelling all the rest in both Sacred and English History; two passed fairly, and six in all obtained more than half marks.

In Arithmetic the results were generally below a satisfactory standard. The mechanical work was fair, but intelligence, as shown in the solution of easy problems, was defective.

Eight boys and two girls reached the prescribed standard of qualification. The first six boys are John Wm. Sinden, George O. Smith, Wilfred Hodgman, Leslie G. B. Henry, Edward G. Cox, and Colin M'Phee; the two girls, Frances J. Rule and Margaret M. Brown.
