Subject: People should not face consequences for telling the truth

Dear Inquiry into Discrimination and Bullying in Tasmanian Schools,

Please do not allow activists to use their claim of anti-bullying as a cover for the truth. Their gender beliefs in Tasmanian schools are causing MORE bullying and discrimination. These ideas go against science and create a setting that downplays factual knowledge. School policies must align with biology and safeguard individuals from ideological influence. People cannot change their gender, they cannot alter their biological sex. Punishing individuals for speaking the truth is wrong.

When we start teaching that feelings overrule facts our society no longer has strong foundations, but rather crumbles under pressure and we see society as a whole fail miserably.

Please don't allow yourselves to be manipulated by the minority, we need strong leadership.

Sincerely,
Jodie McPherson
