INSPECTOR'S REPORT, 1879-1880.

Laid upon the Table by Mr. Moore, and ordered by the Council to be printed, September 21, 1880.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT of the Inspector of Police on the State of the Territorial Police of Tasmania, for the Year ending the 30th June, 1880.

Office of Inspector of Police, 25th August, 1880.

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward my report on the state of the Territorial Police for the year ending the 30th June, 1880.

The general conduct of officers of all ranks has been very satisfactory. The discontent occasioned by the continued omission to provide a superannuation fund has become intensified into a sense of injustice by the fact that a portion of the Municipal Police are now in possession of that essential advantage over the Government Force. As the Municipal Police derive this benefit directly from the General Revenue and not from the local ratepayers, I venture to hope that my remonstrances may prevail, and that the Territorial Police may enjoy the prospect of some more appropriate provision after faithful service than the Charitable Institutions would afford.

From the year 1860 this question has been periodically brought under notice in the Inspector's Reports.

The necessity for a small vessel at the disposal of the Government has not been supplied. With the increase in the number of outlying stations on the sea-board it will be impossible much longer to evade the expense of maintaining suitable means of communication with them.

Increase upon the cost for the previous year had been provided for in anticipation of further development of the mines. Whenever the necessity for employing the extra men has not been imperative advantage has not been taken of the liberality of Parliament. In this way, although two Constables are on the estimates for the Pieman, only one has been appointed, and for the last six months I have employed one Constable only at Lisle.

I have had the honor to suggest the creation of a new Police District on the West Coast. If this proposal should be adopted, no greatly increased expense would be incurred unless the population should be materially augmented. The portion of Tasmania indicated has hitherto been without police government.

The increasing popularity of the games of football and cricket attracts large numbers of people to the Domain and entails an extra amount of duty upon the small force available for the service. I have not yet asked for an augmentation of strength but may be compelled to do so during the summer.

The subjoined statement of crime shows an increase in the number of indictable offences as well as in the number of cases of drunkenness. This may be attributed chiefly to the movements of an unsettled population to and from the mining districts.

Offences against the person still bear a large proportion in the crime reported. Cowardly assaults upon the Police are repeated often enough to suggest the insufficiency of the punishment inflicted on conviction:—

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

PORT SORELL.

Strength of Force 15

This Force remains unaltered in strength and organization.

An Acting District Constable had died during the year, and two Constables resigned.

The increasing prosperity and importance of this district will require proportionate addition to the police strength.

I shall have to seek authority for the appointment of an additional Constable for Latrobe as soon as the new quarters can be erected.

There are other stations where increased protection must soon be afforded. There is one station, that of Burgess, where the Constable is kept at the desire of the Government for revenue purposes: his police services would be far more valuable in another locality.

The Chief District Constable is Bailiff of the Court of Requests, Bailiff of Crown Lands, Collector of Police Rates, Sub-Collector of Carriage Duty, Inspector of Stock, Examiner of Weights and Measures, and Poundkeeper.

Two District Constables are Inspectors of Stock, and two Constables are Tidewaiters.

Two publicans were fined for breaches of the Licensing Act.

PORTLAND.

Strength of Force 9

This Force remains unaltered.

The Chief District Constable is Crown Bailiff, Collector of Police Rates, and Inspector of Stock. Two District Constables and an Acting District Constable are Bailiff's of the Court of Requests.

Five publicans were fined for breaches of the Licensing Act.

Considerable hardship has been occasioned to the inhabitants of this district through the inconvenient localities in which the Courts are held, and the long distances people are compelled to travel. This has been erroneously attributed to police arrangements. The head quarters of the northern division of this district will be removed to Branhholm or Moorina.

Strength of Force 1

One Constable was dispensed with during the year, but owing to the small settlements being scattered over so large an area, I find that one Constable is insufficient. Police duty is also rendered more arduous by the want of a resident Magistrate.

There is provision on the estimates for another Constable for the District. The appointment will not be made until warranted by necessity.

With any advance in the prosperity of the West Coast it will be necessary to provide for the protection of the revenue against smuggling.

A District Constable was accidentally drowned whilst endeavouring to cross the bar of the Pieman River in the police boat.
