Subject: Submission to the Joint Select Committee on Future Gaming Markets

Dear Members of the Committee,

Gambling is a pernicious habit and poker machines, at the bottom of the industry, are the worst. They are entry points for large numbers of people to become addicted, and include many who can simply not afford it.

Also distressing is the fact that governments become dependent on revenue from gambling licences and are then unable to make unbiased decisions on what is best for their communities.

I would ban all poker machines. But the opportunity to remove them from community venues is at least a start and I urge you to have the courage to make the right decision on this issue.

Yours sincerely, Tony Forman
