

Tamar Marine – Fire

Mr FERGUSON question to PREMIER

My question is to the Premier and that's because it's a question that intersects the Small Business, Infrastructure and Parks portfolios. Premier, you would be no doubt aware of the devastating fire overnight that's destroyed Tamar Marine and the next door building, Almasts. The fire personnel have been extraordinary overnight. Brigades from everywhere attended.

Will the Premier outline how the government will work with the affected businesses and displaced workers during this very difficult time?

Also, given the site's key location on the Tamar River foreshore where Crown land plays an important role in the management of the precinct, what actions can the government take to support remediation and the future of this strategically important marine precinct? Recognising that the owners and staff are distraught and will consider their future plans in their own time, will the government assure the House that the relevant departments will work proactively and -
