Subject: Gteyhound racing cruelty

Dear Stephanie Hesford,

I have no direct knowledge of cruelty in greyhound racing, but am appalled at the stories appearing in the media. Our society seems to be getting more and more uncaring towards not only animals but also people. If we can stop the cruelty to animals, perhaps it will change the attitude of adults who do not care sufficiently to protect their families from abuse. Humans were not created to torture other species; it is time we all took a stand.

Sincerely,

Ruth Eschmann
