Subject: Submission to the Joint Select Committee on Future Gaming Markets

Dear Members of the Committee,

I have an addiction to pokie machines, and for several years have sought the services of Anglicare. I am still gambling. Fortunately for me, my addiction does not effect other people. I curse the day a friend introduced me to these machines. I cannot believe I cannot control my behaviour. Please get rid of them in Tasmania. I'm aware they bring a lot of money into the state, but the problems they bring to gamblers are far greater. Is it worth the financial gain. I think not. A lot of revenue raised by the Government comes from people who suffer some from addictive behaviours .e.g smoking, gambling and drinking.

Yours sincerely, Suzanne Midson
