43 Ms Forrest to ask the Honourable Leader of the Government — Noting the Tasmanian Fire Service (TFS) website states ‘there is no conclusive evidence that private bushfire shelters are safe to use’, and ‘The 2009 Victorian Bushfires Royal Commission found conflicting evidence where seven people died in private bushfire shelters whilst others claimed that a shelter may have saved their lives’, and that ‘The Commission concluded that extreme caution should be taken with respect to the use of private bushfire shelters’, can the Government advise:—

 - (e) that in the 2019 fires six households sheltered in approved bushfire bunkers and none came to harm even though three of their houses were destroyed?
- (2) If the claims about private bushfire shelters made by the TFS are not supported by the evidence but nonetheless discourage Tasmanian householders from installing private bushfire shelters of the kind approved in Victoria, what risk could this advice from the TFS pose to the safety of Tasmanians living in bushfire prone areas?
