Dear

Now I know you have lost your minds stopping people born after 2000 from buying cigarettes. I would like to thank you for one taking away more business from small family run businesses because not only do they buy the smokes they buy a drink a packet of lollies etc. No smokes they don't come in. Have you actually thought about what you are saying with this stupid suggestion. The police are already flat out with all the other drugs and you want to bring this rubbish in. You don't think that if they want smokes and over 18 they have a right to decide, where are we living North Korea or China last time I checked it was Australia. If you want all the young one to leave Tassie you have just given them another reason.

Congratulations to the Tasmanian government on another excellent decision made with tax payers money. If I was them I would wait for a cheap airfare over the mainland currently $70 return. Jump on a plane spent money over in Melbourne for a weekend load up my bag with cigarettes and come back to Tassie. So once again more money gone out of the state. Get in the real world instead of sitting on your pedestal with no idea about living. For your information I have a son who is born in 2000 and although I would prefer he not smoke if he chooses to that is his choice!!!!
